Zack's Place
A Community Enrichment Center

A LETTER FROM THE VP

Diversity, inclusion, and individualism is at the heart of Zack's Place and the Zack's Place Board of Directors brings that to the fore. The Board is comprised of eleven individuals each bringing their talents and skills which, when combined, feature what might be called a "well oiled machine". Over our 17 years of operation, board members have changed from time to time; however, the constant flow of ideas that contribute to the successes of our center are never ending. Working in concert with our long-time executive director, we help bring to fruition ideas for new programs and insure those items needed to enhance and grow our organization are available to her.

Personalizing this some, one of our long-standing board members, Helen Norton, is Erin's mom. Erin is participant who has been coming to ZP since its inception. Helen and her husband Emmet see the future of ZP as Erin's future. They moved to Woodstock from their home in Thetford in order to be nearer to the hub of Erin's daily life outside of their home. Helen is not only a board member but is frequently right it the midst of field trips and programs at Erin's aide. As such, she is an important information source to the board offering details that are important to our particpants and family members that might differ from that of an executive director.

A newer board member, Kathleen Casey, who lives in Quechee, comes to ZP bringing with her not only a litany of new ideas, but also of ways to enhance our presence there and to get to know the Quechee community better.

My story is a bit different. I am related to Zack as he was my first cousin, once removed. My family and I would travel from our then home in New Jersey and visit the Frates family and Zack in Woodstock. We knew him as a tiny infant and watched him grow into the charismatic young man he would become. There were tears and sorrow as the extent of his premature birth and resulting cerebral palsy limitations became more evident but his unflagging good humor carried all who knew him through these difficult times. When my husband and I retired after building a home in Woodstock in 2008, I became, and still remain, a Zack's Place board member and watched how that germ of an idea that is now Zack's Place, grew into what it is today; a truly incredible place where individuals of varying talents and gifts come together to share their challenges, joys and triumphs. Friendships grow as does confidence and physical and mental health. With so many programs and athletic endeavors to choose from each individual finds their own way to success and happiness. These are paths oftentimes never offered or travelled before for our participants. Family member's lives are enriched as well with free time to explore hobbies, hold gainful employment and socialize, all the while knowing their family members are in a safe and nurturing environment. What a joy it has been for me to participate in the growth of such a much needed and successful undertaking.

When seeking new board members, we look for individuals who might fill gaps in the expertise of our cumulative board. Our board members come from many walks of life and include financial/investment planners, a CPA who has expertise in non-profit issues, a retired builder who oversees buildings and grounds issues, an educator who acts as a liaison with the local school community, a retired attorney who worked in the area of special needs estate planning, a succession planner for a large not-for-profit, a retired physician, and a mortgage banker.

Some of us are better at fundraising, others at creative solutions; however, each one of us is dedicated to the growth and well-being of our wonderful enrichment center.
As I have said before, "it takes a village".

Vice President

STAFF

Zack's Place would not be possible without the incredible staff. There is a diverse and dedicated group of leaders at Zack's Place that foster a fun, educational, compassionate, creative, multi-faceted and nurturing environment for our participants and community.

Dail Frates has been the Executive Director at Zack's Place for almost 15 years and oversees everything from transportation and staffing to programming, volunteers, fundraising, field trips, and events.

Her favorite thing about Zack's Place is the relationships she has built with the participants and this becomes evident especially around the months devoted to their annual musical for which Dail undertakes multiple roles including: writer, director, castor, stage manager, and actress. She finds the night of the performance magical as participants shine while exhibiting their individual talents and bask in the glow of an audience who cannot stop applauding them.

Dail feels incredibly fortunate to have found a profession as fulfilling and fun as Zack's Place.

Holly O'Brien began working at ZP in 2015, as a Program Director and transitioned to Assistant Director in 2016. Holly feels that undertaking this position is one of the best decisions she ever made. Her responsibilities are varied and compliment much of what the executive director does while putting her own touch on other aspects such as writing the hundreds of personal thank you letters to volunteers and donors. Holly too feels that the best part of her job at Zack's Place are the people. "The participants hold a special place in my heart. They are all so uniquely wonderful. I cherish the bonds of friendships that I have made while watching them enjoy all of the programs and field trips."

Holly works alongside Dail on all the fundraising events, but her favorite is the Turkey Trot which is held each Thanksgiving morning where 1,500 community members, their extended families, the participants and staff come out and run, walk and wheel the 5K course to help ensure the financial success of this beloved enrichment center.

Holly feels grateful to be a part of such a wonderful center and appreciates the opportunity to impact the lives of some very special individuals.

Sarah Roberts has been a Program Director at Zack's Place for 11 years. She is responsible for administrating programs such as cooking, painting, pickleball, games, and more. Sarah also ensures that programs run smoothly and that all of the participants' needs are being met.

What Sarah loves most about Zack's Place is that it feels like a family. "At Zack's Place, participants chose to come and, therefore, are happy to be there. We are a drop-in center, and the atmosphere is upbeat and energetic. Staff and Instructors are welcoming, and participants feel at home." Sarah has a great fondness for the Zack's Place yearly musical play. She finds that the performers put in a lot of effort, and they feel proud of themselves after the show. The love from the audience is palpable, and it is indescribable how much love and joy the performers feel on stage.

Sarah looks forward to watching the participants grow and become more confident every year. ZP provides a safe place for the participants, and she loves that it encourages them to try new things and offers many opportunities for growth. She enjoys the great field trips with the new van and loves watching her pickleball crew get better.

Kitty King has been a Program Director at ZP for 11 years. She and Sarah alternate days making for a perfect pairing. Kitty said, "Our staff is a diverse group. We see and do the job differently." As a prior stock broker, Kitty brings the "stoke" to ZP! "I am always up for bingo or a dance party." She began as a volunteer and then was hired soon after. She jokes with volunteers, "Watch out, you may be working here soon!" She loves that ZP is joyous and it's the only job she's ever had where she doesn't watch the clock. Cultivated friendships are one of the ways everyone learns from each other. Kitty remarked on how the staff work well together, creating a special work environment.

STAFF

One of Kitty's favorite programs is "book group," which she leads on Mondays with Bobbi Perez. "It reaches a vast audience with people coming in person and on Zoom. Instructors and participants alike have the chance to read." She is looking forward to fun new things at ZP as there always new ideas for programs and field trips. "Every day at Zack's Place is a good day! I don't think there are many jobs you can say that about. It's a privilege. I'm so happy to be here."

Doug Phillips has been a dedicated volunteer and now an employee for over a decade handling multiple tasks including programs and seasonal duties, such as snow removal, landscaping, and gardening. Doug is a versatile team member and is known to be a "Jack of all Trades".

Doug considers the staff and participants as his own family. One of his favorite programs from the previous year was a trip to Fort Ticonderoga. As a child, he had fond memories of this trip, so it was meaningful for him to share it with the participants. Doug had a close bond with a participant named Frank. Unfortunately, Frank, who was a history buff, passed away suddenly in 2023. Doug was grateful for the opportunity to share that memorable trip with Frank before his passing.

Doug is looking forward to good health, gardening and some great fieldtrips in the New Year! He said, "I love going to Zack's Place. It keeps me going!"

Patty Hasson has worked on special projects since 2011, and is responsible for data entry to maintain mailing lists, donations, and more. She works remotely and enjoys being part of a wonderful Enrichment Center and the staff.

She loves the programs that are offered to the participants and the fun, creative things they do. I like the relationships between the participants and staff. The fundraisers are successful events and fun to help promote." Patty added, "I think Woodstock and the outlying areas are fortunate to have a place like Zack's Place".

In summary Zack's Place thrives in many ways but the staff is at the center of its success."

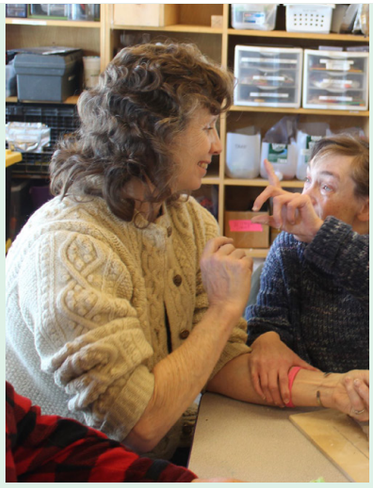
TESTIMONIALS

HELEN NORTON

Jack in Zilly Zonka play

"Emmett, Erin, and I saw Sarah, Jack's mom, while we were skiing at Pico today. It was great to see her, and she told us that Jack is busy with Project Search, so committing to play rehearsals wouldn't work with his schedule. She said that you were working on a cameo role for him so he could participate – that's wonderful, and that kind of flexibility and accommodation makes ZP so great."

PATRICIA DOYLE



"WOW! My experience has varied with the diverse participants I have been honored to work with. Each individual has been greeted with love, compassion, and open hearts. They have always been met with a "happy to see you" and a sincere "glad you're here".

The folks I have brought to Zack's Place enjoy being there. They have found camaraderie from their peers and Zack's Place's awesome team of employees. One verbal participant I brought mentioned he likes being there because there's a lot of life and light. Another participant I brought loves the wonderful music experiences especially singing along. The individuals get very excited when they can help choose the music. The interaction of professional, compassionate, down-to-earth musicians captivates and includes each participant. Also, with the physical fitness fun, the participants I have brought enjoy the encouragement to do well and sometimes are encouraged to go further, strengthening their self-esteem and fitness. All leaders of activities meet individuals where they are at physically, mentally, and emotionally. They are always joy-filled at each level of success.

Outside of the community, there has been the same utmost respect for individual needs, whether it's local in Woodstock, the variety of field trips, or the VT Adaptive. I have seen one client be transformed to sheer joy expressed beyond even his facial expressions by having skied or biked or paddleboarded with equipment geared towards his unique needs. Another has skied, biked, and canoed for years with Zack's Place and VT Adaptive, who loves the anticipation and participates with confidence and exuberance. One other individual expressed her sheer joy and lovely giggles on a canoe trip around Silver Lake and her clay experience at Artistree.

What a tremendous joy and acceptance ALL feel to be part of the family at Zack's Place."

SAM ESTES

"Hi, I am Sam Estes, and I participated in the ski program with Zack's Place. I looked forward to Wednesday mornings to meet my instructor AARON. Aaron had a bi-ski with outriggers for me to learn to ski on. This was my first year being independent skiing with Aaron only holding on to harness straps. It made me feel free, being able to watch my friends rip down the mountain. I was able to ski for 2 hours non-stop, which enabled my ability to improve, and I want to join the Special Olympics ski team. Upper Valley Hawks next year. I am happy to be a part of Zack's place, to have friends to share in adventures, and to learn new things together."

FIELD TRIPS 2023

Field trips highlight the monthly program offerings at Zack's Place. Our program schedule includes field trips, at no cost to those attending, to a diverse range of places and venues that offer education, entertainment, history, and the opportunity to travel out of Woodstock to experience the thrill of new experiences with friends. Over the past year, we have taken field trips to exciting and enriching sites in Vermont, New Hampshire, and New York. Having our Zack's Place van to transport us allows the flexibility to go when and where we want without the expense and time constraints of a rental bus.

Some of the beautiful places we visited in 2023 were the Fairbanks Museum and Planetarium in St. Johnsbury, McAuliffe-Shepard Discovery Center in Concord, NH; the Latchis Theater, Brattleboro; Wonderfeet Kids Museum, Rutland; Vermont Granite Museum, Barre; Hildene, The Lincoln Family Home, Manchester; Fort Ticonderoga, Ticonderoga, NY; Weston Theater Company, Weston, VT; Bread & Puppet Theatre Art Museum and the Museum of Everyday Life, Glover, VT; Sutton Hill Center, Warner, NH; and the Hogback Mountain Country Store, Marlboro, VT.

In addition to the places we visited outside of the Upper Valley, we also took field trips to local places such as Northern Stage, White River Junction; Hood Museum of Art, Hanover; Vermont Institute of Natural Science, Quechee; Montshire Museum of Science, Norwich; Eshqua Bog, Hartland; Berry picking in Hartland; Corn Maze at Edgewater Farm, Plainfield, NH; and a favorite - moseying through the Antique Mall, toy museum, and visiting the llamas in Quechee.
We love being on the go - getting out in the community and beyond; learning, trying new things, and seeing new places with our Zack's Place friends. We look forward to many more great trips in 2024!

FINANCIAL

2023 was another banner year for Zack's Place. As a Board, we continue to be overwhelmed by the support we receive from all our contributors and sponsors. Fundraising is the cornerstone of our ability to meet our mission, provide incredible programming for our participants, and ensure that we have sustainable financial resources for now and the future.

We are also proud as an organization to boast that we spent over 75 cents of every dollar we earned in 2023 on providing an array of diverse programming for our participants. It's a critical metric that we monitor closely as an organization, and speaks volumes to the efforts of our hard-working Executive Director, and incredible, staff who work tirelessly to provide the best experience for our participants, while keeping overhead at a minimum.

Thank you again to everyone who makes this all possible. From the vigilant, involved Board, to our amazing staff, to our donors, sponsors, and the community who support our mission. It's been a pleasure to see Zack's Place grow and flourish and I know we're all looking forward to continued successes and a bright, sustainable, future.

FUNDRAISING

17TH ANNUAL TURKEY TROT

The 2023 Zack's Place Turkey Trot was its usual huge success. We registered over 1,000 runners, 700 walkers, and over 100 participants who joined us globally. For a whopping total of over 1,800 energetic individuals, all wishing to support the wonderful enrichment center known as Zack's Place.

The event was not only a 5K run/walk/wheel event, it also featured the live band of John Snyder which entertained the runners for an hour or two prior to the start of the race. Evie Hackett sang a magnificent National Anthem, and the weather offered its blessing with warming temperatures as the sun rose. Yummy goodies that were much enjoyed were donated by Price Chopper Stores.

The T-shirts featured 75 sponsors on the reverse side and raised $47,000. Together with the 1,800-plus runners and donations, the event grossed $125,000, accounting for almost one-third of our annual budget. Once again ensuring that we are able to continue to offer quality and varied programming throughout the year.

We extend a "giant" thank you to all those who participated, donated, volunteered, and sponsored the event and, of course, to the wonderful community that continues to support our center in so many ways.

FUNDRAISING

10TH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS

The 2023 Zack's Place Tournament of Champions successfully registered 28 teams and was held on September 9, on a beautiful, sunny and warm day. It started with a shotgun at 12 PM sharp, sending the teams off. The tournament included some fun add-ons to the golf such as the Air Canon on the 18th hole and delicious ice cream cones.

Upon completion of the tournament, a helicopter flew over the golf course and while hovering over the 8th fairway, dropped 500 numbered golf balls. The ball landing closest to the hole won its owner a whopping $5,000, with second closest winning $2,000, and the third-place winner took home a nice round $500 prize.

Lots of appetizers, cocktails, and a live auction followed to cap off the event. This event which is a primary fundraiser for our Zack's Place operating budget, raised over $65,000, making is a huge success and providing lots of fun for everyone involved.

FUNDRAISING

GARDEN EVENT AT KELLY WAY GARDENS

The 2024 Zack's Place Garden Event took place on May 14th at Kelly Way. The event featured Ari Rockland-Miller as a guest speaker. Ari is a mushroom foraging educator, writer, and co-founder of The Mushroom Forager, LLC. Guests learned how to inoculate a log with Shitake Mushrooms, which they were able to then take home. There was also a demonstration on how to build a wine cap mushroom bed and how to make a shitake totem pole.

After touring the beautiful Kelly Way Gardens and enjoying cocktails, the guests had a locally sourced dinner prepared by famed Chef, Matthew McClure, of the Woodstock Inn. The dinner was followed by a live auction of garden-themed items. This event raised over $10,000 making it a successful and much enjoyed fundraiser for Zack’s Place.
